Expressway Eagle Family Missing

By Jon Thompson

The family of eagles nesting along US 27 is gone.

One eaglet was found dead near the bottom of the nest tree, two eaglets are missing, and the two parents have left the nesting site.

A DNR aerial survey of eagle nests after a windstorm May 31 found the nest empty. The eaglet found on the ground was decomposed, leading DNR officials to believe the eaglet was killed before the windstorm.

It is not unusual for an extra eaglet to be rejected by the adult birds. Sylvia Taylor, DNR wildlife biologist from Mio, said a three-eaglet nest is quite a burden to the parents. In the upper peninsula, one eaglet to a nest is normal with two to a nest sometimes. In the lower peninsula, with richer feeding grounds, two eaglets are common with occasionally three to a nest.

The other two eaglets were not found and caused some speculation that they may have been taken by someone. Taylor said the eaglets were definitely not old enough to fly yet.

The two adults have not been sighted by the nest recently. Taylor said the pair - removed of parent responsibilities - could be anywhere in their large territory located primarily east of US 27 in a swamp. A bald eagle, possibly one of the pair, was sighted near the Muskegon River Sunday.

Ironically, it was a windstorm last winter that led the eagles to nest at the US 27 site. Their nest in a nearby swamp blew down last winter and this spring they moved into an old nest located in the meridian of US 27 west of Higgins Lake.

The nest can be seen from both lanes of US 27, and the birds became a tourist attraction for motorists despite DNR and state police efforts. State police issued more than 60 tickets to persons illegally stopping along the expressway by the eagles nest and the DNR repeatedly urged people not to disturb the eagles.

"It was a great thing to see," said Gary Boushelle, DNR wildlife chief for District II. "But go look at the skid marks near the area. It was a dangerous traffic problem."

Boushelle said the Michigan Conservation Foundation has donated money to help erect two platforms in the nearby swamp to attract the birds to another nest. The DNR will attach one of the platforms to the eagles' old nesting tree in the swamp. A limb broke off last winter sending the nest down with it. The DNR will try to put that nest back in the tree on the platform.

Boushelle said there has been no decision made about what to do with the nest along US 27. The nest has been there more than 20 years.

The DNR are considering three options. Cut the nest down so the eagles will not nest there again. Leave the nest but put something inside it so the eagles will not raise young there. Leave the nest alone and try to control the traffic problem.

The eagles will not re-nest again this year, but are expected to return to the area in late March or early April.

The May 31st windstorm also claimed three eaglets near Marl Lake in Roscommon County. Their nest fell in the storm and the birds were found dead on the ground.

Despite the loss of the six eaglets in Roscommon County, Boushelle said there are a record number of eaglets in northern lower Michigan this year. Forty-one eaglets are believed to still be alive in 24 nests — far above the previous record of 35 eaglets counted in 1983.

'Newest Republican' Lucas Explains Fiscal Cuts, Health Care Reforms

By Jon Thompson

William Lucas, calling himself the "newest Republican on the block," was the guest speaker at a luncheon meeting with local health care officers, community leaders, and Republican party members Saturday at the Grayling Holiday Inn.

Lucas, the County Executive for Wayne County — the third largest county in the nation with 2.3 million persons — talked about health care and reducing Wayne County's deficit by $82 million since he took office in 1982.

"We were a county running out of control," Lucas said. "When two and a third million people begin to work together to say it's time for a change all in unison, then you know it's time for a change."

"I was elected with a particular mandate — the job of bringing fiscal reform to Wayne County. And frankly, we set about doing that with a vengeance."

"There were those who said to us it has taken 100 years for this county to get into the kind of shape it is in, we don't understand why you're moving so quickly and why you don't take a 100 years to let it get back into the shape it should be in."

"Of course, that's a fallacy of that kind of argument. We moved aggressively," Lucas said. "We now have the county in a situation where we've had two years of balanced budgets and we've had a surplus for the first time in many years."

"We're proud of that and we're equally proud of two other facts. We've been able to return many services that had been eliminated from county government, and we have been able to do that with fewer people — 25 percent fewer people than when we started. And we have not had to raise taxes to do it. So we get more services and we've done so at a cost we can afford."

Lucas discussed Wayne County's health care system at length and closed his speech with this.

"I hope if I leave any legacy at all as County Executive, it will be that of an individual who was sensitive to the needs of his taxpayers, but also sensitive to the needs of those people who needed the care of our society and its concerns."

Lucas then answered a few questions from the audience of approximately 45 persons.

Jim Kolka, of Grayling, asked Lucas how he felt about "Governor Blanchard taking a couple of shots at you in the paper as to the fact he bailed out Wayne County, not you?"

"Well, I've been shot at with real bullets," Lucas joked, referring to his experience as an FBI agent and indicating Blanchard's statements were not to be taken too seriously at this time.

The Crawford County Avalanche asked Lucas when he was going to announce he was running for governor.

"There are those who feel that anyone who is going to run for the office of governor would have to make statements around the state, and appear at meetings of this kind and make speeches, and be a good friend of Connie Binsfeld, and all those kinds of things. I don't know why they think I'm going to be running for governor," he said tongue-in-cheek.

On a serious note he then added, "Of course, now even if I were going to be running for governor, a decision of that kind has to be made with a great deal of thought and consideration."

The luncheon was hosted by Deryl Holmes, of Mercy Hospital, and Jeannette Kitchen, Crawford County Commissioner, with state senator Connie Binsfeld in attendance.

City Adopts 85-86 Budget

By Jon Thompson

The Grayling City Council adopted its 1985-86 budget Monday night after cutting $25,975 from their preliminary budget.

City Manager Jerry Morford said there were no major cuts from one department and the level of city service will not be changed.

The largest single cut was $10,000 from leaf and brush service. The city council adopted a total of $19,100 for the service instead of $29,100 recommended in the preliminary budget.

Morford said they hope to use a better route and pick-up system along with more hand labor to maintain nearly the same service for less money.

The service cost about $25,000 for the 1984-85 fiscal year.

The other cuts out of the preliminary budget were $4,150 from the fire department, $3,650 from community promotion, $2,500 from street lights and sidewalks, $1,991 from the cemetery, $1,546 from administration, $718 from the police department, $633 from parks, $399 from building and grounds, $200 from city council, and $188 from capital improvement and transfers to other funds such as street construction.

The total 1985-86 budget is $852,756. For the first time in 12 years, the city council had to raise instead of lower its millage rate.

The 1985-86 millage will be 14.81579 mills for operations and .25 mills for debt retirement. The 14.81579 mills is an increase of 2.07826 mills from last year's operational millage.

On a city home with a state equalized value of $20,000 (true cash value $40,000) the millage increase amounts to approximately $41.00 extra in taxes.

Morford said the increase in taxes reduces the city's dependence on federal revenue sharing — a revenue with an uncertain future.

Last year the city used $28,000 of federal revenue sharing for police operations.

The new budget does not include using city income tax for any purpose except street construction.

The city's 1985-86 fiscal year begins July 1st, 1985, and the new millage will be used on July city tax bills.

Homeowners Can Easily Handle Tent Caterpillar Outbreak

By Jon Thompson

The population of eastern tent caterpillars reached near peak levels this year in Crawford County, but homeowners can easily rid their trees of the insect.

The nest of the tent caterpillars are visible throughout the county mostly on small wild cherry trees. During the spring, the caterpillars eat leaves off the cherry trees and sometimes attack other fruit trees in the Prunus family such as apple, pear, and plum trees.

Currently, most of the caterpillars are in cocoons and they will emerge in a few weeks as moths. The moths will usually lay eggs for next year's caterpillars in the same tree as the nest or close by.

Russell Kidd, MSU Cooperative Extension District Forester in Roscommon, said homeowners who want to protect trees from the insect should cut the tent nest out of the tree and burn the tent nest. Leaving the tents will usually mean an increase of caterpillars next year.

The best time for controlling the insect is in the spring when most of the caterpillars are still in or around the nest.

Small trees can be defoliated by the caterpillars and can die. Larger trees can survive some branches losing leaves but will die also if attacked several years in a row.

Kidd said many trees attacked this year will attempt to put out more leaves. Homeowners can fertilize and water the trees to help them survive the attack. For more information about fertilizing or tree care, call the MSU Cooperative Extension Service at 275-5043.

The eastern tent caterpillar appears to be nearing its population peak and could crash within the next year or two, Kidd said.

Usually a virus or bacteria disease will cause the population crash, he said. Some birds and a species of wasp are among the natural predators of the tent caterpillar.

The jack pine budworm recently reached peak population levels in the north and causing considerable damage before its population began dropping.

From Our Corner...

We were impressed...

Bill Lucas, that is impressed us...we just returned from a luncheon at the Holiday Inn that was hosted by Sen. Connie Binsfeld, and co-hosted by Jeannette Kitchen and Daryl Holmes for special guest Bill Lucas, Wayne County Executive...

Now everyone that reads downstate newspapers, or watches TV, or listens to the radio knows Bill Lucas as the one who has made headlines in the last month by switching from the Democratic party to the Republican side...

We went to the luncheon wondering if this was going to be somewhat of a political gathering...it wasn't, I guess that is what really impressed me... Bill Lucas presented himself as a well rounded man in this day and age...starting as a Harlem cop, then a member of the FBI that brought him to Detroit, then as Sheriff of Wayne County and ultimately Wayne County Chief Executive...

His presentation was how he brought Wayne County out of a deep deficit hole into a solvent county...Wayne is the third largest county in the United States...

Not once did he mention politics, in as much as the other fellow got us here, and I'm your salvation...

He sidestepped the question from the gathering as to his aspirations of running for governor...he said that was down the road but, one can almost read between the lines that it is almost a foregone conclusion...especially when we read that former Governor George Romney has already endorsed him as a candidate...

Bill Lucas is a cool, intelligent man...it will be interesting to see what transpires at this time next year...by then the political wheels will be turning and the top office in Michigan will be up for grabs...

Like we said, we were impressed by Bill Lucas...

This week will be a first for the Avalanche...the first four color photo on page one...the photo is by Jon Thompson at Grayling's commencement exercises Friday night, and we have to thank Therese, head of the photo department at Mac's Drugs for coming in Saturday morning, and then Sunday morning to help us out in the developing and making prints in order to get the photo to Gaylord Sunday for the separations...we hope you like it...

The Saturday luncheon played twofold for the ol' fella, we met Bill Lucas and we shared a table with Ron Fraser who happens to be the owner of the Inn...through the conversation we were invited to be a guest of Ron for the Toronto Blue Jays and Tigers night game in Detroit June 28th on the Le Coache tour bus...now the essence of all this is, advertise in the Avalanche...we mentioned last week how we had to turn down a similar offer but, would like to see if the Toronto Blue Jays are for real...they are certainly doing now what the Tigers did last year...

As we were leaving the Shoppenagons Friday night we ran into Mayor Sandy and Jeanne and their guests, former residents Alan and Marilyn Stevenson now of Florida...Al said he reads this turkey every week and came up here to fish the AuSable and catch a big trout so he could get his picture in the snow slide...Sam, I think they used to call him, at one time owned the agency that is now Scheer's...it was good to see him and Marilyn...

We were just thinking, I should start a gossip column in this space, it seems like that is all we hear...gossip...maybe that is the way of life but, we have felt you live your life, I will live mine, just so you don't step on my toes...on second thought we will leave the Louella Parson's kind by themselves...

School must be out...I saw Tom St. Germain Saturday morning and he was all smiles heading for the golf course...I guess that is another indication that summer is here...

Gee, I wish I was as infallible as some people...just an idle thought...

With that we bid T.J., Stefany and Amber good-night, and to all of our readers have a nice weekend...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

DEATH ROW IN MICHIGAN?

Will capital punishment be restored to Michigan for cases of premeditated murder? Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson is being sued by the American Civil Liberties Union for his efforts in a petition drive to put the death penalty question before the public in the 1986 general election. The honorable Alan Cropsey, Judiciary Committee Chairman of the Michigan Senate is working within state government to pass a resolution to let voters decide the question. The liberals know that surveys show the general public nationally and in Michigan supports capital punishment for cases of premeditated murder by a 70 percent margin.

The current debate drives to the heart of the issue. Senator Cropsey quoted the Bible in Romans Chapter 13 to show "government has a responsibility to use its authority to punish the wrongdoer." Cropsey quoted verse four which reads, "For he is the minister of God to thee for good, But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil." Senator Cropsey simply believed the Bible when he said, "When it talks about the power of the sword, it shows (government) certainly has the authority and obligation to use the death penalty, as a government."

Opposition to Senator Cropsey came not from civil authorities, but from liberal clergymen who entered a long theological debate to oppose capital punishment. The liberals argued their traditional "love and forgiveness" theology. Liberal clergy say capital punishment is contrary to the message of Jesus, basic Christian morality, and the Christian faith. We ran into the same kind of opposition from clergy in Grayling. Most of you remember when seven clergymen signed a public letter opposing our column on capital punishment.

Why the confusion and contradictions? Liberals simply do not believe the Bible. They have placed human reason over divine revelation. They have agreed together that the only worthy doctrine taught in the Bible is love. They therefore reject all Bible teachings about God's holiness which demands punishment of evil. One liberal clergyman even branded the God of the Old Testament as a "dirty bully". They reject God's punishment of the entire earth in a universal flood. They reject God's judgment on Sodom and Gomorrah in Gen 19:1-29. They reject God's judgment of death upon a whole generation of Jews who refused to enter Canaan. They reject God's instruction to Israel to kill all the Canaanites when they entered the promised land. They reject King David's military conquests at God's direction. They do not believe in the Great Tribulation period coming to the earth as described in Revelation, Chapters 6 through 19. They do not believe in an eternal Hell where all who reject Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior will burn for eternity. Liberals simply do not believe in punishment for sin. Liberal unbelief does not change God's character, God's revelation, or God's eternal plans. Neither should we allow it to effect civil law and justice in Michigan.

Unit 106 of Grayling had a very good year this year. We would like to thank all of you for your support.
We would like to ask all of you to be at our meeting Wednesday night for our election of officers. Installation will be held on Saturday, June 29, at 7:30 p.m.

We've had some of our committee reports sent to Department for judging this year. Sharon Rubey, our president, wrote a poppy poem that has gone in. It's very lovely. Also our poppy centerpiece has been sent! We had 3 poppy posters from the school students selected to go to the department. One from the 6th & 7th grade with no student's name on it went in. We will continue trying to find out who it belongs to. Amy LaGrow from 8th & 9th grade was sent in, and also Gregg Burns from 10th, 11th, and 12th went in. Good luck all of you! Our history report, Community services scrapbook and report, and our children and youth report has been sent. I hope we haven't left anything out.
To all of our members who haven't purchased a cookbook from our unit yet, we have them available at the Legion Hall for $5.00 apiece. We need your support on the cookbooks. We also have auxiliary jackets now. You may call Sharon Rubey at 348-7795 or Roselyn Johnson at 348-7756 for information on them. Also the cookbooks. Call Sharon after 2:00 p.m., Roselyn anytime. Have a good week, and we hope to see a good turn out on our election.

Letter to the Editor:
As a Lovells Township resident of thirteen plus years, I am writing this to expound on real property taxes. In December of 1973, my taxes were $173.00. In December of 1984, my taxes were $659.75. Since the advent of collecting taxes twice each year, I will receive a tax bill that reflects an increase, due to the equalization by the county. In July of 1985 the first half of the taxes will be due. The citizen taxpayers of Lovells are going to raise cain and will blame the current supervisor for the increase.
For the record, I offer the following to all Lovells taxpayers. Mr. Fred Schaibly was the duly elected supervisor of the Township of Lovells and as such was responsible for the assessment of property within the township and the supervision of the hired, paid assessor.
In September of 1984, the County Equalization Board met in Grayling and I believe it was Mr. Schaibly's duty as supervisor of the township to attend that meeting and fight for Lovells Township taxpayers.
For the record, Mr. Schaibly did not, repeat, did not attend that meeting and the end result was a 1.1465 factor against Lovells real property. Had the supervisor done his job, perhaps things would have been different. He did, however, accept his salary.
As far as I'm concerned, my taxes have increased because Mr. Schaibly failed to represent my interests. A word of caution to all Lovells Township taxpayers: When you receive your tax statements and you note that they have increased, put the blame not on the current supervisor, but on Mr. Fred Schaibly.

Opening The Old Quote Bag

by Richard Millman

PRESENTING HERewith a variety of quotation, gathered hither and thither, which appealed to the presenter for one reason or another... or, how to get other people to write your column for you.

TRUMAN CAPOTE, the late author, talking once about reincarnation, said he wanted to come back as a buzzard. Why a buzzard? Said Capote: "Because buzzards are nice and free. Nobody likes them. Nobody cares what they do. You don't have to worry about your friends or your enemies. You're just out there, flapping away, having a good time, looking for something to eat."

President Ronald Reagan, speaking to the annual Conservative Political Action Conference: "The truth is, conservative thought is no longer over here on the right. It's the mainstream now. And the tide of history is moving irresistibly in our direction."

Trivia collector L.M. Boyd in his newspaper column: "Survey-takers asked 9,000 husbands if they would marry their wives again, and 2,000 said no. Why not? Nagging was the No. 1 explanation."

CALVIN COOLIDGE, in his 1925 presidential inaugural address, talked taxes: "The men and women of this country who toil are the ones who bear the cost of government. Every dollar that we carelessly waste means that their life will be so much the more meager... The collection of taxes which are not absolutely required, which do not beyond reasonable doubt contribute to the public welfare, is only a species of legalized larceny. Under this republic the rewards of industry belong to those who earn them. The only constitutional tax is the tax which ministers to public necessity."

Beverly Klee Anderson, a Howell psychiatrist who is an activist for several causes including population control, animal care, open spaces, etc.: "You have to pick and choose what you really get mad about, or else you stay in a rage all the time. But I think it's important to be mad about a few things once in a while."

Detroit News columnist June Brown, describing New York City: "It's so big and rich that no other city can compare. The streets are filled with limousines, cruising along at $30 an hour, serving rich people who have plenty of money but no parking space."

COLUMNIST Sydney J. Harris, dispensing some of his syndicated philosophy: "Here persistence will not help you knock down a door with your head; it is more likely to give you a permanent headache, if not a skull fracture. Using all the cylinders in your power will not aid you to race up a hill that is too steep for your motor to surmount."

Boston Globe sportswriter Dan Shaughnessy, describing the recent pro basketball all-star game, which apparently he found dull: "It was flatter than the glass of ginger ale you left by your bed last night."

A city commissioner in Hallendale, Fla., favoring licensing newspaper vending machines, which his hometown newspaper naturally opposes: "The fact that they're a newspaper doesn't give them the right that they think they have. Their viewpoint is warped, and they should come to terms with reality."

THE EVER-UNDIPLOMATIC tennis great, John McEnroe, talked about the games people play: "Tennis is a real sport, like baseball, football, basketball. Golf is not a sport — it's an artistic exercise like ballet. You can be a fat slob and still play golf."

Joseph Pulitzer, the early publishing great, describing his credo for how newspaper writing should be done: "Put it before them briefly so they will read it, clearly so they will appreciate it, picturesquely so they will remember it, and, above all, accurately so they will be guided by its light."

Advice columnist "Dear Abby" Van Buren, advising a teenaged girl to be more circumspect in how she acts with her boyfriend, even if they don't do anything wrong: "What you are constitutes your character, but what people say about you constitutes your reputation. Please care more about 'how it looks.' A girl's reputation is like the authenticity of a fine painting. Once questioned, it's never quite the same."

Two Denmark Groups To Visit Roscommon

The Nordia Gymnastic Team and Hirtshals Big Band from Denmark will visit Roscommon from June 29 to July 2 as part of the Blue Lake International Exchange Program. The two groups are sponsored by the Roscommon Chamber Music Society/Arts Council and will perform in the Roscommon High School Auditorium on July 1 at 8 p.m. There will be no charge for admission, but donations will be accepted for the Roscommon Arts Council Scholarship fund.

The 44 members of the gymnastics team and the jazz band will stay in private homes during their visit in Roscommon as part of the cultural exchange experience for the groups' members and for citizens in our community. The Blue Lake "home-stays" have been very successful in the past few years for both the visitors and the hosts. Each party involved enjoyed learning about the others' culture. Sara Cherven is the Chairman of the committee making arrangements for the groups' visit, so if you are interested in being a host family, please contact Sara at 275-8174 or 275-5723.

The Danish Jazz Band and Gym Team are two of 6 European performance groups visiting Michigan as part of Blue Lake's International Exchange Program this summer. The Exchange Program began in 1970 when a 90-voice choir from Blue Lake toured England, Belgium and Germany. Since then, nearly 3,000 high school musicians from Blue Lake have visited 300 communities in England, France, Italy, Germany, Austria, Luxembourg, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland, and Liechtenstein.

In return, nearly 5,000 members of 80 European and Japanese bands, orchestras, choirs, and dance groups have come to Michigan to perform in communities throughout the state.

While touring Europe, Blue Lake groups stay in private homes as the foreign groups do when visiting Michigan. Last year Blue Lake groups were hosted by nearly 1,300 families in Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Liechtenstein,

Proposal Would Use Pollution Settlements for Lakes Computer Analysis

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

A proposal using settlements from pollution lawsuits to operate a new computer system to analyze and predict Great Lakes Water levels was announced by Governor James Blanchard and Attorney General Frank Kelley.

The system will help the state protect the lakes against diversion proposals as well as support other programs such as coastal development, toxic chemical management, and fisheries, they said.

Blanchard said the system will "catapult Michigan into the next century in our ability to protect the Great Lakes and its ecosystems." He said it fulfills a commitment made by Great Lakes governors and Canadian premiers in a charter signed earlier this year.

Kelley, who said the key is using pollution settlements, said the proposal "is a remarkable breakthrough in environmental advocacy." He said payments and settlements of environmental lawsuits have been running from $500,000 to $1 million a year.

The system would cost $861,500 to expand computer facilities and cost about $494,000 a year to operate.

Kelley said the computer system will be an important weapon in combating any attempt at diversion because it can quickly chart the environmental impact of changes in lakes' water levels.

And, he said it would be capable of effectively monitoring the effect of toxic chemicals on the lakes.

Department of Natural Resources officials said the system would assemble existing information on the lakes, including data from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the Federal Great Lakes Research Laboratory in Ann Arbor, and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Large Lakes Research Laboratory in Grosse Ile.

Karl Hosford, chief of the DNR's Land Resource Programs Division, said the system has "tremendous potential" for managing coastal development, to identify which areas have the best potential for development and which should be protected.

He said the significant data would be in the system in the first year to make projections and would be fully operational in about five years. The program is included in the proposed 1985-86 department budget now before the Legislature.

BILL INTRODUCED TO CLOSE LOOPHOLE IN DRUNK DRIVING LAW

Legislation to prevent chronic drunk driving offenders from getting their drivers licenses restored by claiming they need to be able to drive to work was introduced recently in the Legislature.

Senator Lana Pollack (D-Ann Arbor) said the bill would outlaw hardship provisions for restoring a drunk driver's license, which is the reason given for some 92 percent of all license restorations.

The bill, sponsored by Pollack, is designed to "plug a loophole" which has not made the 1982 drunk driving reforms as effective as legislative sponsors hoped, she said.

The measure would only affect those persons whose drivers license is automatically revoked by the state after either two convictions for operating under the influence of liquor or three convictions of the lesser charge of driving while impaired.

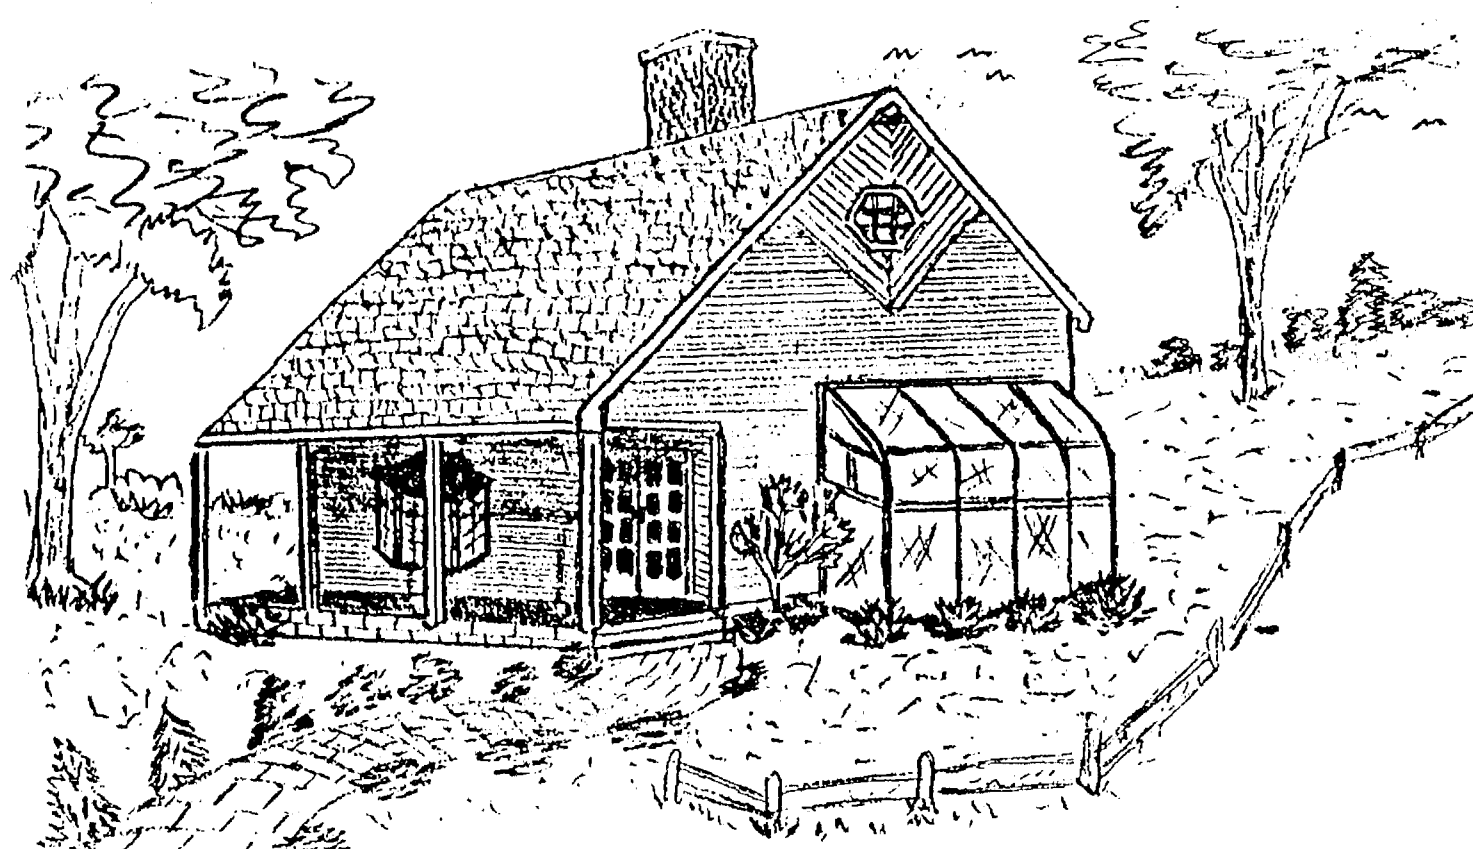

Pollack said the current right of those drivers to have their licenses either partially or wholly restored by the circuit court has created a "revolving door" that has failed to keep most serious "hardcore" drunk drivers off the road.

Between 80 and 90 percent of all drivers who appeal their license revocation get their licenses restored, she said.

And of that number, 92 percent have their license restored so they can either drive to work or look for work.

The legislation would simply preclude restoring a person's drivers license so that person can work, she said.

While that may seem harsh and have some negative economic impact, that loss is not as harsh as the possibility of those drivers killing or maiming a person. Keeping those drivers off the road will give them a chance to dry out, she said.

NEW K-5 TEXTBOOK ADOPTIONS IN READING AND ENGLISH

The Crawford AuSable School District has adopted the Harcourt, Brace, Jovanovich English and Reading series for implementation in grades K-5 for the 1985-86 school year. This adoption concluded fourteen months of analysis and review of English and Reading textbooks by the school district's Language Arts Committee.

Beginning with eight textbooks to review, the committee narrowed their choice to three. Each of these three series was then reviewed again and compared to each other.

Some, but not all of the criteria used to review the texts were: publisher's goals and objectives, the district's goals and objectives, sequence of objectives from grade level to grade level, rate in which skills are introduced and maintained, readability at grade level, vocabulary development, supplementary materials, enrichment activities, and teaching strategies. Other factors included: illustrations, size of print, quality of paper, binding of the text, use of maps, charts, and graphs. Careful consideration was given to the story content at each grade level, the balance of fiction and non-fictional selections, and the correlation of the reading program with the English program. Based upon their analysis, the Language Arts Committee recommended Harcourt, Brace, Jovanovich.

In preparing for next year, the K-5 elementary staff has already had two in-service sessions with a consultant from the publishing company. There will be additional in-services in late September, 1985, and in January, 1986. Placement tests will be administered to students prior to their dismissal for summer vacation so that the correct number of texts can be ordered and instruction can begin in September when students return.

COUNSELING

The high school counselors work with students, teachers, administrators and community organizations to provide appropriate counseling and guidance services to students and their parents. These services include personal counseling, career counseling, goal setting, academic adjustment and skill development, and college selection and application completion.

The high school counselors held over 1300 individual interviews involving testing, career decisions, personal and academic progress.

The counselors administered and interpreted the MEAP, OVIS, PSAT, ACT, SAT, ASVAB, Advanced Placement Testing and Slosson Individual Intelligence Test to over 500 students.

The counselors implemented an ACT Coaching Class designed to prepare juniors for the ACT (American College Test).

Coffee hours were conducted for freshman parents to discuss graduation requirements, career choices, scheduling and parent concerns.

Approximately 437 (74%) students used the high school MOIS (Michigan Occupational Information System) terminal for computerized career education information.

The Meet the Grads Open House was held before Christmas with approximately 35 Grayling High School graduates meeting with college bound juniors and seniors to discuss college experiences and answer questions.

Counseling at the middle school for the 1984-1985 school year took on additional emphasis in the area of career exploration and educational planning for the students future.

Middle school personnel counseling has been expanded based upon increased need and a greater number of community resources were utilized including the local 4-H program offered through Michigan State University, mental health and the Youth Services Bureau.

The counseling office worked closely with the careers class using the MOIS and followed up with a trip to vocational programs available at Kirtland Community College.

Field trips were taken to Kirtland Community College, the Stratford Ontario Shakespearean Theatre, an interactive scientific concepts museum in Lansing, Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum.

The elementary program involved cluster grouping for the first time and a half time teacher/consultant was assigned to the program. Activities involved higher order thinking skills and critical thinking skills development, computer science, debate, and World War II study.

Todd Laitinen, 8th grade student, qualified for the state level of competition through his excellent results in Michigan Council Teachers of Mathematics competition. Todd also earned the highest score within the C.O.O.R. area with a 560. In mathematics on the S.A.T. as part of the Midwest Talent Search. This score qualified Todd for a six week program in trigonometry at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois, this summer.

C.O.O.R. wide planning was completed for accelerated academic programming for qualifying middle school students. Eight students will take second year Algebra or Expository Writing at Kirtland Community College with students from other C.O.O.R. area districts.

Board of Education

In its annual review of district maintenance needs, the Board completed the following major projects:

1. Improved, efficient reliable outdoor lighting was installed at the high school.

A district calendar was created and distributed throughout the community with information vital to parents and students regarding school processes, programs and policies and with a complete schedule of all school events for the year. The entire community used the calendar as community events were to be scheduled without conflict with school events. The 1985-86 calendar will be mailed to parents and distributed within the community during the last week of July.

COMPUTERS

The district K-12 Computer Science objectives are being fully implemented. K-5 Science has been involved in in-service to aid in implementation of the program and the 9-12 curriculum is being revised to reflect implementation of the new middle school program.

Forty-three computers are in student use in district schools for an average of 10.7 per school compared to the national average of 8.2. This works out to 41.7 students per computer district wide as compared to the national average of 63.5 students per computer.

Approximately 750 high school and adult education students have completed at least one computer course during the past three years.

During the past three school years, the high school computer laboratory has had 62,400 student hours of use including regular school courses, after school enrichment and adult education.

Three Hundred Eighty-six of the 417 middle school students or 93% took at least nine weeks of computer science coursework during this school year.

In the Middle School literacy block, students learn machine operations, beginning word processing, and beginning LOGO. During the next school year a greater emphasis will be placed on keyboarding and students will begin working with data bases. In programming classes, seventh and eighth grade students mastered over half of the objectives required for high school Computer Programming I.

The middle school computer science laboratory hosted a Central Michigan University workshop on Appleworks software applications for teachers and interested adults throughout Northern Michigan.

For the 1985-86 school year, every elementary school classroom in the district will have access to a computer for 50% of all class time.

The second annual all district science fair was held in the middle school gym with over 100 student entries displayed. Over 400 persons attended the fair.

Two Hundred Twenty-nine (41%) high school students completed a year of higher order science (Biology, Chemistry (1st or 2nd year), Physics and Physiology).

MATHEMATICS

Two Hundred Seventy-Four (49%) high school students completed a year of higher order mathematics (Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry and Calculus).

Eighty-seven school students completed a year of Algebra or Pre-Algebra.

Thirty high school students participated in state governmental experiences such as Girls' State, Boys' State, Operation Bentley and Youth in Government.

The middle school student council gave financial backing to the school spelling bee and girls track team in addition to their purchase of video equipment. They initiated involvement in writing the student handbook for 1985-86.

PRIMARY ROOM AND DEVELOPMENTAL KINDERGARTEN

The Frederic Elementary School will implement and house the primary room for the Crawford AuSable School District next fall. This pilot program is designed to continue developing readiness skills in: Math, Reading, Language, and in all motor areas. This program will be available to students that were in the Developmental Kindergarten and to Kindergarten students that are in need of strengthening academic, motor, or social skills before entering first grade. The Developmental Kindergarten, piloted this year gave students judged not ready for Kindergarten a successful first school experience while emphasizing those developmental fine and gross motor skills necessary for academic readiness.

TRANSPORTATION

Crawford AuSable buses traveled a distance of over 287,380 miles throughout the 464 square mile district on 12 regular routes, 4 double runs and 7 Kindergarten runs. This calculates to an average of 160 miles for every student in the district.

A regular plan of bus replacement was begun this year with the purchase of two new 78 passenger diesel engine buses. These were the first new buses purchased by the district since 1979. The 78 passenger buses replace 66 passenger models. The diesel buses are averaging 14 miles per gallon as compared to 5 miles per gallon for regular gasoline engine buses.

Dr. Andrews Authors Book

Oglesby, Ill. - Dr. Hans A. Andrews, former Grayling resident and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nelson of rural Grayling, holds a copy of his book which was released recently by New Forum Press, Inc., of Stillwater, Oklahoma.

Dr. Andrews, Dean of Instruction at Illinois Valley Community College, Oglesby, Ill., resides with his wife, Carolyn, and daughter, Ashley at 510 E. Pearl St., Ottawa, Ill.

His book, "Evaluating for Excellence," deals with the subject of faculty and staff evaluation with emphasis on the system of evaluation in use at IVCC where the author serves as chief academic officer. It includes a summary of court cases of record dealing with efforts by educational institutions to remove ineffective teachers from the classroom.

Dr. Andrews is the immediate past president of the National Council on Community Services and Continuing Education. A native of Grayling, Mich., he received his B.S. from Central Michigan University, his M.S. from Michigan State and his doctorate from the University of Missouri at Columbia. He was on the staff at Kellogg Community College from 1966 until 1978 when he accepted the deanship at IVCC at Oglesby, Illinois.

"Evaluating for Excellence" provides the blueprint for a system of administrative evaluation of tenured faculty IVCC has used to remove from the classroom the "...five to seven per cent of tenured faculty who were not getting the job done," according to Andrews.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Park Interpreter

Did you ever try to pull a plant such as a Dandelion or the Sweet Clover that grows beside the driveway? It seems that you destroy it and have eliminated the possible take over of your lawn by the intruder. With the next rain or possibly before the plant is again growing in the very same spot. You in fact have not removed it.

One university professor stated that a tree the size of the Monarch has as much wood in its roots as it does in its trunk and branches. If this is the case, why aren't more roots exposed when a tree is tipped over by the wind? Most of the roots of any plant are root hairs which are very, very fine. It is through these root hairs that the plant is able to absorb moisture and minerals from the soil.

A laboratory experiment with a winter rye grass plant which was allowed to grow in two cubic feet of soil is a prime example of root system. The plant had, at the end of the four months, fifty-one square feet of surface area above ground. The roots totaled three hundred seventy-eight miles long and the root hairs totaled a whopping six thousand miles in length. It is no wonder that plants can survive most of our efforts toward their removal.

Planned Giving Series at Mercy

Planned Giving: Building a Team, is a satellite video conference series aimed at improving the fund development skills of individuals involved with non-profit organizations and institutions, churches, schools, and hospitals.

On June 14, Mercy Hospital will offer, to the public, the fourth program of the series: "How Gifts Can Improve a Will or Estate Plan." The 2-hour program will be shown in the Education Room on the second floor of Mercy Hospital, beginning at 11 a.m. until 1 p.m.

The conference is offered to satellite network members by the Association of Hospital Television Networks, of which Mercy Hospital is a member.

The agenda for June 14 includes live discussions on how your organization's fund development team can learn to talk easily with peers and prospective financial donors about gift giving strategies. Planned giving is not as complex as everyone thinks. The core of the matter is helping potential donors to make a gift in such a manner that they also accomplish one of their financial goals.

With potential changes in the tax laws that may elevate or reduce the tax advantage of charitable contributions, it is imperative that fund developers become familiar with current strategies and learn to apply them.

Registration for the program must be made by calling Mercy Hospital, (517) 348-5461, extension 368. There is a fee of $13.50 for the program which includes lunch.

Ask Bill Schuette

By Cong. Bill Schuette

I urge Cong. Bill Schuette, I urge your action in obtaining relief for American business from the new tax law imposed on employers by the Internal Revenue Service. The new law requires massive and expensive recordkeeping on the use of not only company autos, but also trucks and computers. I request that you and your associates offer relief from these unprecedented burdens. American business cannot possibly bear this additional cost of doing business, not to mention the interruption to our daily business operations.

L.W. Durand, Mich.
A. Dear L.W.,

I, too, am opposed to this intrusion into our daily and business lives. Because so many people in mid-Michigan and across America were willing to stand up and say "Enough!" the Congress has acted. By a vote of 428 to 1, the House passed conference legislation nearly identical to two bills which I co-sponsored. I also had the honor of manning the Republican leadership desk and rounding up my colleagues to vote for repeal of these accounting rules.

By the time you read this, the Senate will have passed the same bill, and with the President's signature, farmers and business people will be rid of these rules once and for all.

Requiring farmers and business people to record every mile of travel in their farm vehicles, trucks and cars was a classic illustration of bad government. By trying to catch a dishonest few, the government penalized the honest majority.

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, while others judge us by what we have already done.
Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

It shall be unlawful to take the following named species except within the open seasons and daily limits prescribed (statewide regulations apply unless otherwise restricted):

Statewide open seasons on all waters not otherwise closed to fishing shall be from May 15 through February on walleye, sauger, northern pike, and muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge). The daily catch limit shall be five singly or in combination for largemouth and smallmouth bass, walleye, sauger, and northern pike; one for muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge).

The above regulations apply statewide except that walleye and sauger may be taken at any time from the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, Lake St. Clair, and Lake Erie; and that muskellunge in Lake St. Clair, St. Clair and Detroit rivers may be taken only from the first Saturday in June through December 15 of each year. Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

The Fish and Game Protection Fund is facing a $4.8 million shortfall this October. A proposal to offset this deficit and keep the Fund solvent through the rest of the decade is now before Congress. Some of the major points contained in the proposal are:

1. General fund reimbursement of reduced senior citizen license fees.
2. General fund partial reimbursement of taxes on State land.
3. Establishment of a Game and Fish Trust Fund. Interest earned will hopefully preclude another license fee increase caused by inflation.
4. Elimination of free spouse fishing license and combination husband-wife non-resident fishing license.
5. A $3.00 non-refundable application fee for Hunter's Choice deer permits, turkey permits and managed waterfowl area reservations.
6. Increase restitution on illegally taken game and fish.
7. Charge $1.00 for each Passbook purchased.
8. Eliminate the Trapping License and create a Fur Taker's License. This would be required for anyone hunting or trapping fur bearers (fox, coyote, raccoon, etc.).
9. Sell a second gun or bow deer license (bucks only) to successful hunters.
10. Raise resident hunting and fishing license fees an average of about $1.50 in April, 1986 and another $1.00 in April 1987.
11. Increase the Report All Poaching program funds (35 cents per license instead of the present 25 cents).

This program, if passed would:

- support programs through fiscal year 1990-91.
 - allow addition of 45 Conservation Officers by 1987.
 - restore fisheries positions to make Michigan eligible for $2.6 million more in federal Dingell-Johnson funds.
- Public support for this package will insure that the excellent hunting and fishing opportunities available in Michigan will continue for future generations.

GHS Student Attends Journalism Workshop

Senior Damon Thayer has been enrolled in Grayling High School's gifted-talented program, called Advanced Studies, since its inception in 1983. This spring, Damon was one of 20 Michigan secondary students chosen to participate in Interlochen Arts Academy's three-day workshop, called "The Business of Writing."

With his advanced studies instructor, Nancy Lemmen, Damon travelled to Interlochen on April 18-20. Following is his account of the workshop:

As I was driving to Interlochen Arts Academy to attend "The Business of Writing" conference, I thought it would be along the same lines as the other seminars I had been to. But I forgot to take two factors into consideration: One, this was Interlochen. Two, the conference coordinator was Mike Delp, the new director of creative writing at the fine arts institute. I have learned never to underestimate either.

Mike Delp had assembled quite an impressive list of journalists for the workshop: Henrietta Epstein, a free-lance writer and editor, discussed "Arts in the Print Media," and Jim Mencarelli, the night editor of the Grand Rapids Press, talked about "Writing the Feature Story." Mencarelli utilizes some interesting techniques to acquire information from his subjects, and he shared these with the students and teachers in attendance.

Kathy Warbelow, editor of the widely read Detroit magazine, did a workshop on "The Art of Writing Profiles," while another editor, Deborah Wyatt, of the popular Traverse, the Magazine, focused on "Investigative Writing."

The 20 students and their English teachers who attended the conference were from all over the state of Okay, darlin', take that board off your carrots. Actually, I would be surprised if you waited this long. When I took my board off, my carrots were just as tall as my mothers, except that mine did not have any weeds. How do yours look?

You want to hear my theory on why this works? Never mind. You are going to hear it anyway. Most any seed, when wet, will sprout anywhere - even in the dark. Ask anyone who sprouts their own seeds to eat. The carrot seed will sprout in the dark, also. However, because it is a seed and sweet, the sun will warm the board and help the plant to grow as it sprouts - much the same as the sun draws the sweet sap from the roots of the Maple tree up through the trunk (which is why they say cold nights and warm days are best for tapping trees).

The weeds are usually plants, but are rarely ever sweet; and since they need the sun for the process of photosynthesis, they invariably die for the lack of it. Because of their sugar content, strawberries, peas, carrots, and cabbage will not usually freeze during a frost.

The positive response I have been receiving from this column have been really great, particularly since quite a few of you have been trying my advice. If you have any questions, please contact me at 348-8727, or come on out to the Cerelli's Herb Farm in Frederic.

Have you read the moral about the carrots, yet? Well, darlin', just goes to show you, if you live a sweet life, you will live longer.

I'm going.

Herbally yours,
E. Diona Cerelli, C.H.

How to Protect Yourself From Drinking Drivers

A new pamphlet "How to Protect Yourself from Drinking Drivers," is just off the press, Secretary of State Richard Austin announced today.

The pamphlet, available in all Secretary of State branch offices, tells how to recognize drivers who may have been drinking, when drinking drivers may be encountered on highways and what can be done to avoid them.

Austin said that a total of 1,331 highway deaths occurred in Michigan in 1983 and 1,551 in 1984. Alcohol was involved in more than half in both years.

Despite efforts of public and private agencies, law enforcement and safety organizations, alcohol-involved highway deaths have increased, he said.

The pamphlet is designed to help drivers become aware of the problems of drinking and driving, how to recognize a driver who has been drinking and how to protect yourself.

Michigan, from as far north as the upper peninsula town of Menominee.

People spoke positively about the workshop speakers, and I noticed that the poetry workshops that Mr. Delp presented to the group were very well-received. The students and teachers all gained valuable information on journalism; and I, as a former Delp student from his Grayling days, enjoyed his teaching style once again.

Registration Needed For Watercraft

Crawford County Sheriff Harold Hatfield is warning owners of unregistered watercraft to register their vessels immediately with the Dept. of State or face a crackdown by his department's marine safety deputies.

The action follows a series of meetings between sheriffs and officials from the Michigan Dept. of Natural Resources to design and implement a uniform policy for enforcing the state's watercraft registration requirements.

Hatfield noted that boat registration data obtained by the Michigan Sheriffs' Association (MSA) revealed that over 104,000 unregistered watercraft using Michigan waterways are costing the Marine Safety Fund an estimated $1,371,000 in lost revenue.

"The failure by a large number of boat owners to register their vessels is jeopardizing county marine safety activities that protect the lives, safety and property of all boat owners," Hatfield said. "It's my job to provide effective marine safety programs and enforce state laws fairly and uniformly. That's exactly what I'm going to do."

State law provides that all motorized boats and any other vessel 12 feet in length and over must be registered with the Dept. of State and the owners must pay the required registration fees and display the proper decal on each side of the vessel's bow.

Congratulations to our graduates Teresa Lehto, Erin Jones, Kenneth Erb, and Barry Armstrong. All are planning to attend the college of their choice in the fall.

Mrs. Joanie Erb and family visited relatives in Posen on the weekend. While there attended a graduation party for her nephew.

There will be a Tupperware Party at the Ladies Club on June 20th at 10:30 a.m. given by the Chapel Guild. Everyone is welcome.

Churches Having Bibletime Marketplace

The week of June 24th is not far away and three local churches are busy finalizing the plans for a Vacation Bible School based on the life of the disciples and Jesus during his manhood and ministry. Sponsored by St. Francis Episcopal, St. John Lutheran and Michelson Memorial United Methodist Churches, are busy setting up Jewish family tents for the children who come.

The Bibletime village of small tents will be set up behind the Methodist Church yard at 400 Michigan Ave. School age children Kindergarten through 6th grade will spend the week pretending that they are a typical Bibletime family. As a family they will learn about life in Jesus' time. They will worship together, learn scripture, go to the well for water and help bake bread.

The Jerusalem Marketplace will be open and the families will go to "town". There the children will be able to attend a variety of activities including Bible crafts, storytellers, recreation and singing.

This experience of reliving Bibletime events will acquaint children with their Christian heritage. Instead of learning about life in Jesus' time, they will be experiencing it!

The week will end with the dramatization of the last events in Jesus' life and a last supper celebration. This is a large adventure for the churches and the rewards to the staff and the children involved will be great. If you have anything you could share with the children about Jewish life please contact Ann Morford at 348-2974.

Moose News

The District Meeting was a great success, thanks to all the members who attended. The men brought the traveling plaque, and the women only lost by one. A job well done.

We have a lot of activities coming up in the next two months. We'll be having a Father's Day breakfast on Sunday, June 16 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. The wife or children's breakfast is $3.00, and the Father's is free. And on June 22, we'll be having a Swiss Steak dinner from 5 to 8 p.m.

We are also having a Flea Market, Beer Tent, and Pig Roast scheduled for July 4, 5, & 6th. Anyone wishing to rent a table on the 4th & 5th should contact Jeanne Pearce or Dan Mathey.

The Pig Roast and Beer Tent on the 6th of July will be from 12 noon to 2:00 a.m. The cost per plate at the Pig Roast will be $5.00 and we'll be selling beer throughout the day.

We need workers for all of the above events, so please come in and volunteer an hour or two of your time. If we all work together, it makes it easier for all of us. The next meeting for the men will be on June 19th at 8:00 p.m. The installation of women of the moose officers will be on June 22 at 4:00 p.m. The women's meeting will be on June 17th at 8:00 p.m.

Rhinos

Unlike its two-horned African cousin, the larger one-horned rhino has a single spike -- actually a hard mass of matted hair -- growing from its nose.

The horn, persistently believed by some people to be a powerful aphrodisiac despite lack of medical evidence, sells for $600 an ounce in Southeast Asia.

Grayling Elementary School

On Wednesday, May 29, 1985, the fourth grade went to Fort Michilimackinac. They rode the Le Coache Tours Bus. It took an hour and a half to get to the fort. First they went to the information center to find the history of the fort. And they went to see the 35' long Indian-made birch canoe. Finally they went to the fort and our guide showed them a musket gun and shot it. And after that they went to see the cannon firing. The church bell rang and they went to church and saw a 13-minute history on the fort. After that they went all over the fort. At 11:30 they ate lunch. After lunch they went to the other side of the park and saw all kinds of old boats and lots of other stuff. Story by Gretchen Dice, fourth grade.

At Mrs. Bovee's House

On Friday, May 24, Mrs. Bovee's fourth grade classroom went to her house! At her house they ate lunch while Mr. Bovee took four or five people into their greenhouse to see all the plants. After they were done eating lunch they walked back to school. By Heather Anne Millikin, fourth grade.

Dear Sir:

A story appeared in this paper a couple of weeks ago about the endorsement of local guides and fishermen of the current slot size limit now in effect on the AuSable Mainstream. The DNR has stated from their study of the effects of the current regulations that a minority (25 per cent) of anglers are harvesting such a significant percentage of the 8-12 inch trout that few survive to the protected limit. Their analysis shows that the numbers of over 12 inch fish have decreased by 47 per cent in the past four years. With so few fishermen having such an impact we can only fear what will happen if the present slotted regulations continue for another five years. The DNR further acknowledges that what fishing we have left on the Mainstream is being sustained by voluntary catch and release.

Lee Wulff is considered the founding father of modern stream conservation and is widely recognized as an outstanding angler, writer, and an avid protector of the Atlantic Salmon. He heard of the present concern regarding future regulations for the AuSable and felt that he should write me the following letter:

May 30, 1985

To the Trout Fishermen of America:

The measure of a fisherman's interest lies in the fish he is fishing for. When there are no fish in a stream, no one bothers to fish there. The best possible fishing a good trout stream can offer comes when it holds as many fish as it can support and, under natural conditions, most of those fish will be big and mature.

The Europeans gave us our first trout fishing techniques but, under their system of private stream ownership, they limited their fishing to those who owned the rivers or their guests. Our revolution changed that. The founding fathers gave most of the fishing to the public. In Europe those who own and manage their fishing are careful to maintain it at a fine level for if they don't they suffer a heavy financial loss. In America the fishery managers suffer no personal loss if they let the fishing go to hell under pressures from the great public they serve. They failed to safeguard our waters or maintain enough seed stock to keep the fishing good. They then supplemented the wild fish with hatchery strains bred to be disease free, fast growing and efficient in the food required for each pound raised. Hatchery fish are rarely, if ever, as strong and as capable of survival as wild fish.

We have finally realized that the way to provide the best possible trout fishing for our vast public is through catch-and-release. On our productive streams, it gives to anyone with a license the opportunity to fish a stream full of trout, wild and energetic; the answer to every trout fisherman's dream, and he doesn't have to fly far back in the untouched bush to find such a stream. It can be only minutes away from his home.

Not only are there plenty of fish in a productive catch-and-release stream, but they are the most challenging fish possible. A trout that is killed after his first mistake can never become wise to the ways of anglers and can never offer the challenge a many-times-caught trout does. It is this challenge that is taking today's trout anglers to new heights in angling capabilities, and the accompanying pleasure of excelling in a sport he loves.

On our catch-and-release sections of the Beaverkill, we support ten times as many anglers and give ten times as much pleasure to them as compared with the small number of anglers who fish the catch-kill-and take-home sections of the identical stream. That means ten times as many licenses are sold, and ten times as many people come to enjoy fine fishing whenever a new section of a good trout stream is changed from Kill to No-Kill, a great increase in angling pleasure and a great benefit to the economy of the area.

Catch and release is an American revolt in management that can give Americans their greatest fishing opportunities.

With a wish for the best of fishing,
Lee Wulff

With care and protection the AuSable River System could again become the finest trout stream east of the Rockies. Five more years of slotted regulations do not provide that care and would only lead to a continual decline in the population of larger sized wild trout. I doubt that the fishing pressure will increase. The fishermen are already here and better protection of the trout population will help keep them here.

If one is pleased to fish for and "harvest" 10 inch fish then the current regulations won't even allow this continued harvest. I believe that the only way to keep the fishermen here and protect the river is to have regulations that allow these fishermen to experience the incredible joy of catching 15-20 inch trout even if they must release them - to be caught again by their fellow fishermen.

Dear Whitey:

While visiting another community over the past holiday I read an article in a newspaper about Charlevoix and their petunia planting program.

It was estimated that one family out of every four took part in the city's annual planting program. There were 700 volunteers who planted 50,000 petunias in one hour and 10 minutes. A record for them and also a striking example of community pride.

Grayling won an award last year with just a few people working very hard to make the city look better. This year there were about 10 people, all having other jobs, trying to keep this program going.

Grayling has service organizations, senior citizens, scouts, 4-H, schools, businesses, residents, etc. Next year, how about some volunteers?

Sincerely,
June Schwarz

People of Grayling, I am proud of you and proud to be part of this community. Too often we hear only what is "wrong" with our town and the goodness is ignored. Well, goodness was out in full force Tuesday evening at the Holiday Inn for the Dick Trudeau Benefit Dinner.

In fact, close to 900 people passed through the line to share in a meal with the full proceeds going to help pay the medical expenses that have burdened and overwhelmed Dick and his family. $5,000.00 was raised through these efforts.

Special thanks must be given to Ron, Hertha, Charley, Bill, and all the others at the Holiday Inn that volunteered their services and to all the others in the community that advertised and helped sell tickets. Most important, thanks should be given to all of you who came forward to help a person in need.

It's not only a credit to this community's respect and love for Dick, but also to the good spirit present in this town. As I said, I'm proud to be a part of such a caring community.

Respectfully,
Father Derik Roy

THE TOWNSHIP OF MAPLE FOREST ORDAINS:

SECTION 1. The Township of Maple Forest, Crawford County, Michigan, hereby grants the right, power and authority to the Consumers Power Company, a Michigan corporation, its successors and assigns, hereinafter called the "Grantee," to construct, maintain and commercially use electric lines consisting of towers, masts, poles, crossarms, guys, braces, feeders, transmission and distribution wires, transformers and other electrical appliances, for the purpose of transmitting, transforming and distributing electricity on, under, along and across the highways, streets, alleys, bridges, and other public places, and to do a local electric business in the Township of Maple Forest, Crawford County, Michigan.

SECTION 2. In consideration of the rights, power and authority hereby granted, said Grantee shall faithfully perform all things required by the terms hereof.

SECTION 3. All of Grantee's towers, masts and poles shall be neat and sightly, and so placed on either side of the highways, streets, alleys and bridges as not to unnecessarily interfere with the use thereof for highway, street and alley purposes. All of Grantee's wires carrying electricity shall be securely fastened so as not to endanger or injure persons or property in said highways, streets and alleys. All work performed by said Grantee in said highways, streets and alleys shall be done so as not to interfere with the use thereof, and when completed, the same shall be left in as good condition as when work was commenced. The Grantee shall have the right to trim trees if necessary in the conducting of such business, subject, however, to the supervision of the highway authorities.

SECTION 4. Said Grantee shall at all times keep and save the Township free and harmless from all loss, costs and expense to which it may be subject by reason of the negligent construction and maintenance of the structures hereby authorized. In case any action is commenced against the Township on account of the permission herein granted, said Grantee shall, upon notice, defend the Township and save it free and harmless from all loss, cost and damage arising out of such negligent construction and maintenance.

SECTION 5. Said Grantee shall be entitled to charge the inhabitants of said Township for electric energy furnished therein, at the rates as approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission, to which Commission or its successors authority and jurisdiction to fix and regulate electric rates and rules regulating such service in said Township, are hereby granted for the term of this franchise. Such rates and rules shall be subject to review and change at any time upon petition therefore being made by either said Township, acting by its Township Board, or by said Grantee.

SECTION 6. The rights, power and authority herein granted, are not exclusive.

SECTION 7. The franchise granted by this ordinance is subject to revocation upon sixty (60) days written notice by the party desiring such revocation.

SECTION 8. Said Grantee shall, as to all other conditions and elements of service not herein fixed, be and remain subject to the reasonable rules and regulations of the Michigan Public Service Commission or its successors, applicable to electric service in said Township.

SECTION 9. This ordinance shall take effect upon the day after the date of publication thereof, provided, it shall cease and be of no effect after thirty days from its adoption unless within said period the Grantee shall accept the same in writing filed with the Township Clerk. Upon acceptance and publication hereof, this ordinance shall constitute a contract between said Township and said Grantee.

Sen. Levin's Aide Here June 17

U.S. Senator Carl Levin (D-Michigan) announced today that Jim Moran of his Lansing office will be in Grayling on Monday, June 17 to meet with people who may have problems with federal agencies or wish to make their views known to the Senator.

Moran travels the state in a mobile office to meet with those who otherwise would not have easy access to one of Levin's permanent offices. The office will be parked at the County Building Monday, June 17, 3:00-4:00 p.m.

Moran will also be having dinner with Grayling area seniors on Monday, June 17 at 4:30 p.m. at AuSagra Acres, 308 Lawndale Drive. He will meet with seniors on an individual basis and then as a group to discuss federal issues of interest to Michigan's seniors.

Area residents who are unable to see Moran in the mobile office may wish to visit Senator Levin's office in Alpena at 145 Water St., 102 Federal Building, phone 517/354-5520.

"I want everyone who may not have easy access to one of my fixed offices to know that if they can't come to us, we'll come to them," Levin said.

Don't Leave Your Kids Unprotected

It's vacation time and the emergency room staff of Grayling Mercy Hospital would like to remind you that if you are planning a trip without the kids, please make provisions for their medical care in your absence.

The law does not permit emergency room personnel to treat your ill or injured child without parental permission, except in life threatening situations. The permission of a babysitter, relative or grandparent is not acceptable. Therefore, to prevent unnecessary pain and discomfort to your child while trying to locate you, leave a limited power of attorney treatment form with the individual(s) caring for your child in your absence. These forms can be picked up at Mercy Hospital or mailed to you on request. As a public service to the community, Mercy Hospital will periodically publish the form in the newspaper.

Chamber Chatter

Grayling is again in its first raiment - those beautiful and decorative petunias. The Beautification Committee deserves a lot of praise for their determined insistence that people participate in the program. June Schwarz spent a lot of time with Joyce Kolka, Kay Ellen Junttila and Sandy Sharp. Bob Cole and some of his buddies unloaded the flats from the truck. Don Priestly did a lot of planting for us and the public sector. Most of all we are grateful to the merchants and others who take such great pride in their community. Remember, we won some recognition from "Keep Michigan Beautiful" Committee last year. It just so happened that a tourist, traveling through our town, was impressed by the thousands of petunias along the streets, and reported us to the K.M.A. Committee. Shortly thereafter we were informed to attend an award ceremony at C.M.U. in Mt. Pleasant. Helen Miles did the honors and returned home with a plaque of distinction.

While we're speaking of nice displays, we hope you had a chance to see the patriotic display in the windows of Laura's Main Street Florals. Memorabilia that stirs patriotism in the viewers heart.

The Old AuSable Sporting Goods Store is in a new location now. After a long stand at the Michigan Avenue address, Ben Rice decided to move to Norway Street for the convenience of multiple parking for cars, boats and trailers. The Norway Street location is the former Grayling Auto Supply located directly behind the Shoppenagons Motor Hotel. The Auto Supply Co. has moved into the newly remodeled shop at 600 Cedar Street. Isn't that right!

Pat & Bernie Fowler are planning another of their famous AuSable Flapjack Shore Breakfast's scheduled for July 13th. That's a long way off so we'll be reminding you of the big event in later editions of the Avalanche. The Fowlers are insisting that their Flapjacks are not pancakes, you'll have to try them yourself.

We, here at the Chamber Office, are looking forward to the arrival of the Executive Director, Terry Wright, who will be replacing present Exec-Director Walt Nowak about the last week of June. Nowak returned to the Chamber Executive position on a part-time basis for the past 16 months after a 3 year retirement absence. The Chamber was without a professional Executive for some time as an economy measure. With new vigor and leadership Nowak advised the Board of Directors to seek a full time Executive to replace Nowak who did not want a full time commitment. The new Executive Committee consisting of the officers under the leadership of John Alef II complied with the request and circumstances. Mr. Wright is expected later this month and will be assisted by Nowak and the Executive Committee on proposed goals, objectives and a program of work. Officially Mr. Wright will assume his duties July 1, 1985. Terry Wright is a former resident of Grayling. The son of Russ and Roberta Wright, he is married, has two children and is 37 years old. He presently is in the computer and financial field. We wish him well and look forward to our meeting.

Grayling Township Notice

Applications will be accepted by the Grayling Township Board until 5:00 p.m. on June 28, 1985, from persons interested in serving on the Grayling Township Zoning Board of Appeals.

Father and son... exploring the wonders of nature... sharing secrets... discovering some of the many mysteries of life.

Dads come in mighty handy when a youngster faces a problem he can't solve or cope with.

Everyone recalls the pleasant days of childhood — how that warm, comfortable feeling enveloped you whenever Dad slipped his hand around your shoulder.

Why don't you on this Father's Day, express your love to your dad by attending a church or synagogue with him. It will surely be a memorable day for both of you.

Film to be Shown at COA Office June 20th

Crawford County Commission on Aging announces a showing of "Feelin' Fine," a film featuring Eddie Albert that demonstrates how older people with high blood pressure, a top health problem in the U.S., can keep fit and active.

"The purpose of the program is to inform people at greatest risk from high blood pressure, those in their 50's, 60's and over, about the dangers of the disease and the importance of early detection and treatment," said Sherry Haag, Project Manager for Commission on Aging.

"Because this information is so important to everyone, we are inviting the public to attend," Haag said. Information will be available following the film.

The film will be shown on June 20th at the COA office, 308 Lawndale Drive. Starting time will be 3:30 p.m.

"Thousands of Americans die each year from strokes and heart attacks brought on by high blood pressure," Haag said. "Yet many of those deaths are needless, because high blood pressure generally can be controlled."

Nearly half of all people 60 and over have high blood pressure. But many don't know they have it, and still more who are diagnosed, fail to follow their doctor-prescribed treatment plans. These people daily run a risk of suffering strokes, heart attacks, and other serious disorders.
